THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The success of the Republican Party may be correctly estimated by the strength of the charges its opponents array against it. When it is remembered that after ten years of almost supreme power, after a series of acts that were violent innovations on the old system of government, after abolishing slavery, crushing a rebellion, and giving to the colored man the right of citizenship,—in a word, after the exercise of an unrestricted power for ten years, the Democratic party has been compelled to call on the aid of "Revenue Reformers," and raise a new issue not in the most remote manner connected with the cardinal principles of Republicanism, the success of the Republican Party must be throughly established as a fact in the mind of every man. Just think of it. How utterly weak and destitute of strength must our opponents be when forced to accept such a position. Never in the history of any party have there been more occasions when statesmanship was demanded or when great caution was necessary. From the origin of the Republican Party up to the present hour its efforts have been turned to the destruction of everything standing in the way of universal liberty. From the first hour of its existence it has been harrassed and beset by a watchful and vigilant enemy who hesitated not to misrepresent and distort every act performed. From the day of its birth in Kansas, it has strengthened against an unprincipled foe.

It would scarcely be thought to be within the range of possibilities, that during all this time it has so jealously watched and acted for the best interests of our people, that malevolence should find no criminal and corrupt flaw belonging to it as a body. And yet such is the fact. Whenever an attempt has been made heretofore to defeat it, the Democratic party has resorted to appeals of passion and of prejudice, and has always failed. We know how these attempts were made in the North at the time of the nation's peril—during the draft, with desolated homes in the back ground and death standing in the fore ground, but the people remained true, and again the Democracy failed. Then taxation and negro suffrage were urged with a hope to aid it in a change of political power, but without success. And now, with the lessons of the past before its eyes, with the knowledge that the Republican Party had carried on its great work without leaving behind it one principle that could be successfully attacked, it absolutely abandons all old issues, cries aloud let the "dead past bury the dead," and comes once more before the people on an issue entirely new, and one not connected either directly or indirectly with the war, or in any way germinating therefrom. The success of the Republican Party in having carried out its cardinal principles, could not possibly be measured by a more certain test.

THE DEATH OF MARSHAL PRIM.

An attempt was made to assassinate Marshal JUAN PRIM, the great War Minister and President of the Council of Spain, as he was returning from the Cortes at Madrid, on the night of the 27th of December. He died of his wounds in two days after. He was one of the master spirits of Spain and his death is felt to be a national calamity. The Spanish Cortes have adopted resolutions of respect for his memory declaring that he deserved well of his country, and his family is, by them, placed under the protection of the Government.

The death of Gen. PRIM removes from the troubled field of Spanish politics the man who has most largely figured in the stormy events which have distracted Spain since the expulsion of Queen Isabella, more than two years ago. In the revolution which drove her from her throne he was the chief mover, and he has been the head of what government the nation has had since then. He had spent a lifetime in the armies of Spain, and was a popular favorite until the movement to call the Duke of Aosta to the throne was originated and carried through the Cortes by him and his partisans. The Bourbons, Carlists and Republicans became for once united in opposition to the candidate for royalty, and, as the result shows, did not hesitate to resort to assassination. It is rather an ill omen for the new King, who has landed at Carthagena and is on his way to Madrid, that his strongest supporter has been taken from him by the hand of violence.

THE NURSERY.—This is a monthly Magazine for "youngest readers." It is, both in pictures, letter press and matter, admirably adapted for the children. Its price is $1.50 a year. Address JOHN L. SHOREY, 36 Bromfield street, Boston.

The Municipal election in Wilmington was held on the 9th inst. The entire Republican ticket was elected.

Attorney-General Akerman has rendered an opinion on the question of the obligation of the Pacific Railroad to reimburse the United States for interest paid on the bonds issued in aid of the road. He believes the claim of the Government for such reimbursement to be valid, and that the entire amount of compensation for transportation may be retained till such claim is paid.

THE IMPORTANCE OF POPULAR EDUCATION.

There is no greater mistake than to imagine that the education of the poor confers benefits upon the poor only. We repeat what we have time and again urged, that the mutual interests of all classes of society are so closely interwoven that it is impossible either to benefit or injure any one class without affecting all others.

We hold that by educating and elevating the laboring operative class, the standard of the professional class must necessarily be proportionably elevated. An educated congregation will not tolerate an ignorant preacher; quacks will starve in intelligent communities, and printers do not thrive among an uneducated population. On the other hand pettifogging lawyers, time serving demagogues, and pretenders of all sorts flourish among them. As all classes, even the laboring class, are educated you elevate not only the professions but you advance the literature and general tone of society.

Not only are the mental, the moral, the religious, the literary, the agricultural and the commercial interests of society incalculably benefitted by popular education, but the pecuniary interests of each and every individual are benefited. No matter whether he be a land holder, a capitalist, a merchant, a ship owner, a professional man or a laborer, all from the millioniare to the poorest son of toil are benefitted by popular education. All are pecuniarily benefited by developing the natural resources of the country, which cannot be done by an ignorant population. The development of the mental resources must preceed the development of the natural ones. Mind ever has been and ever will be superior to matter. The popular mind must be educated if we wish our beautiful South to be prosperous at home and respected abroad.

Then let us ask, what must be thought of the men or the party who are striving to cripple and break down our public school system? The course of the present Democratic legislature is in that direction. Can such a party have any claim to patriotism, public spirit or business sagacity. Let those members of the General Assembly who are thus acting be marked and remembered.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SUBSOILING.

We wish we could get all our farmers to understand the great importance of sub-soiling, and then to practice it much more generally than they do. It is not necessary or proper to plow up the poor subsoil and throw up a large amount of it so as to cover up a fertile surface. Not at all. The relative positions of the two should be preserved by the use of the subsoil plow—see those manufactured by our townsman JOHN S. WATCH—an implement too little used everywhere, and espicially in Eastern North Carolina.

Let our farmers reflect a moment. Nature is a great teacher. Study her operations. Most of our cultivated lands were once covered with a good growth of timber. Whence did this growth obtain its sustenance? Its roots penetrated deep into the earth, and for what purpose? Evidently to obtain nourishment for the growing tree. The subsoil, therefore, was not destitute of those elements required for the growth of forest trees. Now the same elements required to build up the structure of a tree are requisite for the growth of the cereals and other crops. Farmers should strive, therefore, to imitate the processes of nature, and to cultivate the earth so as to make the subsoil contribute to the growing crop. To do this, they must pulverize it so that the roots of plants may penetrate it without difficulty.

During a debate in the United States Senate on the 5th inst., on the question of allowing DR. BEST compensation for a house destroyed at Paducah, Ky., by order of a Federal officer, Hon. JOHN POOL made an able speech in its favor. He took the ground that the destruction of the claimant's house, being a means of defending and making more secure the Union fort, was a loss for which the Government was bound to make restitution. Replying to the argument of Mr. CARPENTER, of Wisconsin, that the contest between the North and the South was a public war between belligerents, he held that it was not a war in the broad sense made use of by that Senator—a war between nations—but that it partook of a more restricted character, of a war between a State and its citizens. The rule which applied to an enemy's property in an enemy's country could not hold good as to loyal men of the South who came in our own ranks, and whose property was subsequently destroyed by Union forces. The claim was allowed.

The Old North State has changed its base on the Convention question. Some time ago the editor took the position that a bare majority of the Legislature would be sufficient to pass the Convention bill. Since then he has had his eyes opened and now argues with us that it cannot legally pass the bill except by "the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members of each House." There can be no doubt about this. If the organic law of the State can be changed at every recurring election by a mere majority vote of the Legislature, there can be no permanency of government. Hence the wise provision of the Constitution requiring a two-thirds vote. The instrument itself—the Constitution—was ordained for permanancy, subject to amendments of course, but the power to effect these are properly restricted. A two-thirds vote cannot be obtained.

We see that GEO. W. SWEPSON was arrested in Raleigh on the 3d inst., on a bench warrant issued by Chief Justice PEARSON upon an affidavit made by Gov. T. R. CALDWELL. The writ charges SWEPSON with embezzlement of the public fund, conspiracy to defraud the State and the Western North Carolina Railroad. He was put under a bond in the sum of $200,000. Let all the other rascals be caught.

HAMMER AND ANVIL. A Novel. By REIEDRICK SPIELHAGEN. From the German by WILLIAM HAND BROWNE. Author's Edition. New-York: LEYPOLD & HOLT. 1870.

We can imagine no better corrective of the sickly sentimentalism which pervades so much of the fiction of the age than an infusion of such books as the novels of Spielhagen. Their feeling is of that robust kind which quickens the sympathies without enervating them; their humor is playful and kindly like the strong and deep natures from which it is drawn, and their satire is never directed against anything save what is false and ignoble. Hammer and Anvil, the latest translated of the series, is no exception to its predecessors in the exhibition it affords of the sterling qualities of the author. The hero is one of those tall and muscular types of manly beauty, such as Charles Kingsley and the author of Adam Bede love to paint. He gets impressed upon his mind at an early stage of his life the saying of Goethe, that mankind either stand in the position of the hammer which strikes, or the anvil which receives the blows, and his generous, unselfish nature most commonly leads him into the position of the latter. The author probably intended to convey the lesson that this simile presented but half of the truth, and that life was really a process of welding more or less successful, according to the temper of the material which came between hammer and anvil. At all events, he depicts, with much native truth and freshness, the development of a confiding and manly nature, under circumstances which are sufficiently exceptional and romantic to give the story unflagging interest. There is a marked individuality about the various characters which shows the hand of a master. That a modern novelist should be able in a single story to impart so vivid a conception of a score of different persons as to enable us on laying down the book to call their distinctive traits and to feel that we had really added to our stock of acquaintances, is a feat sufficiently remarkable to deserve notice. Spielhagen seldom loses an opportunity of drawing picturesque contrasts from the opposition of the old and the new. In the present volume he has made effective use of this resource in bringing together around a German port on the Baltic during the second decade of the present century an assemblage of characters in whom feudal pride, organized smuggling and commercial scheming are strangely blended and contrasted. The sphere of action is not very extensive, nor are any of the incidents wrought up to the modern sensational standard, but we venture to say that every intelligent reader will lay down the book with a feeling of greater satisfaction than he would a production of Miss Braddon or of Wilkie Collins.

GOOD WORDS.—The January number of this excellent Magazine commences a New Volume. The Publishers are J. B. LIPPENCOTT & Co., of Philadelphia, and they say:

Correspondence.

A Word to Young Men.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Every young man when starting out in life, should be impressed with the fact, that he is created for a purpose, that he has a mission to perform, that the talents with which he is endowed should be improved, and his reason should be exercised in selecting the business or calling in which he is about to embark. It is conceded by most if not all who are versed in physiological law, that while some men are possessed of a high order of mechanical genius, others are deficient in this respect, but have superior talent for literary attainments, for a professional life, or for mercantile pursuits, while others still who do not aspire to any of these will be most successful in the great field of agricultural enterprise, which by the way, is by no means the least honorable, but on the other hand deserves to be ranked among the highest if not itself the highest calling in which a man can be engaged. And why? Because all other pursuits, professional, mechanical, etc., are to some extent at least dependent upon it; inasmuch as without the bread that sustains life, all these would sink into insignificance. Even the King upon his throne, with all his gaudy attire and stately equipage, surrounded by hosts ready to do him homage, swaying the sceptre of his authority and power over the length and breadth of his domain, would soon have no kingdom to govern, if the earth should refuse to yield its fruits. Take away the titles which are annually drawn from the productions of the soil and applied to the king's purse, and where would be the glittering diamonds, and sumptuous living of the crowned heads with all their princely power.

There is another class of mankind deserving of more than a passing notice. I mean those possessing the muscle, the bone and sinew, the gigantic strength and nerve necessary for the removal of mountains, in the accomplishment of the great projects of improvement, which inventive genius has originated, and scientific skill prepared for their hands. While this class are as necessary as the men of science, it by no means follows that they should remain uneducated, as is lamentably too much the case at the present time; a good common school education would contribute largely to their social and domestic enjoyment, while oft times it would benefit them in their incessant labors.

It would seem that it has been wisely arranged in the economy of man by the great Designer, that while there is a work for each to [illegible], there is also be found some [illegible] each and every work. Thus all the [illegible] and diversified interests of the nations that inhabit our globe, in agriculture and the mechanic arts, in science [illegible] literature, manufactures and commerce, are not found wanting in [illegible] adapted each and every calling. Thus the common weal is promoted, and the world moves in more than an astronomical sense, is constantly progressing [illegible] improvements of the last half [illegible] fully demonstrate, all of which have been accomplished through the agency of man, each filling his proper sphere and performing his allotted part in the great arena of progressive development.

There is yet another class of humanity to which I would call the attention of the young man who is about to enter upon life's duties in order that he may not be so unfortunate as to [illegible] them. I allude to the class commonly designated as loafers. Of all classes of mankind these are the most [illegible] despicable and worthless; having neither aim nor purpose, they of course, accomplish nothing, they are drones in the hive, living upon the labore of the industrious bee, while they produce nothing themselves to contribute to their support. And this is not all' while in one sense they are mere ciphers in existence, in another they are even worse, for idleness begets vice, and one vicious habit [illegible] followed by another until the habitual loafer is not only of no use in the world but he is virtually a criminal in society, and a nuisance to the community which is unfortunate as to be cursed with his presence.

Take heed, then, young man, in time, for habits once formed are hard to change; but look around and behold the wide field which is always open for labor, and the many, very many departments from which to make a choice. Make a choice at once, guided by reason as I said before, and when made, pursue your calling with energy and a determined effort to succeed, and as practice makes perfect, so will a continued application of talent in one direction in a legitimate business, ensure success.

It is said that it takes all kinds of men to make up a world, this may be true in one sense, but if it follows from this hypothesis that all kinds of men are necessary. I must doubt the allegation, or claim exceptions at least, for I have never been able to discover the use of the loafer, unless indeed it is designed that by his presence he will stimulate others to do not as he does but the very reverse; the wisdom of this idea is problematical, because it is not necessary that any one should do evil that good may come of it, and his example is much more likely to be followed by those similarly organized than that they should be repeled by association with him. But I presume I have said enough for the loafer. I trust no high minded talented young man will take that position of choice. Let their number then grow smaller, and beautifully less, until no one can be found who does not in some way contribute to his own support. This accomplished, a new era will burst forth in the world of progress, no idlers; each individual performing a part in the great drama of life, our future will be fraught with improvements which will eclipse even the greatest discoveries of the part; the civilized and enlightened nations of the earth will become, it is to be hoped, more nearly allied together, so that the principal of harmony and peace may predominate to the entire exclusion of the spirit of strife and contention which has so frequently led to war with all its horrors, the accounts of which will blacken the pages of history with a fearful record of deeds of blood through all time.

The year just now closed (1870) will add its page to the history of blood and carnage which the sword has contributed in the destruction of an empire upon the European continent, the suffering, misery and desolation resulting from which, centuries will be inadequate to repair.

E. CITY, N. C., Jan. 7, 1871. J.

Congress.

On the 4th in the Senate Mr. Sumner's resolution calling for information on San Domingo matters was adopted, and the bill was passed which amends the Funding act of last session so as to increase the issue of five per cent. bonds to $500,000,000. A resolution was adopted directing the Finance Committee to inquire into the expediency of imposing a tax of $1 on every applicant for an office having a salary of not less than $1,000. A bill, introduced by Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois, to relieve Congressmen from importunities in appointments to office, was then taken up, and gave rise to a debate on the subject of civil service reform in which Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, and Mr. Morton, of Indiana, took a prominent part, the latter strenuously opposing the measure.———In the House, the bill providing for an International Exhibition at Philadelphia in 1876, in celebration of our national independence, was further considered, but no quorum being present a vote was not taken upon it.

On the 5th in the Senate, several new bills were introduced, one of them providing for inspectors to examine into the sanitary, industrial and educational condition of the Indians, and another making the rules as to the competeney of witnesses in State Courts also applicable in the Federal tribunals. A resolution was adopted calling for the last correspondence between Mr. Motley and the State Department, including the telegraphic dispatches relating to his recall. A Select Committee was appointed to investigate the charges of blockade-running recently made against Senator Sprague, and Mr. Trumbull's Civil Service bill was made the special order for Monday next. The debate on Dr. Best's claim for compensation for a house destroyed at Paducah, Ky., by order of a Federal officer, was then continued, the point in controversy being whether the property was taken for public uses in a sense that entitled the owner to compensation from the Government. The discussion was carried on mainly by Messrs. Edmunds of Vermont, Pool of North Carolina, Carpenter and Howe of Wisconsin, Morton of Indiana, Flanagan of Texas, and Davis of Kentucky. At its close a vote was taken on the bill to pay Dr. Best $25,000 for the destruction of his property, which resulted in its passage, 28 to 15.———In the House, Mr. Schencks letter of resignation was read, and a bill introduced and immediately passed giving him an extra allowance of $2,500 a year, as Minister to England, for the employment of an amanuensis, made necessary by an injury to his right hand incurred in battle.

On the 6th the Senate was not in session.———In the House the session was consumed mainly in debating the resolutions reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs in reference to the dispute between Minister Washburn and the late Government of Paraguay.

On the 7th the Senate was not in session.———In the House there was a general debate, the principal subject of which was the condition of political affairs in Arkansas.

Papers throughout the Eastern States are complaining of the drouth, and the Norwich Advertiser explains that the difference between last Winter and this, is, that there was plenty of water then but no cold weather to freeze it, and now there is plenty of cold weather but no water for it to freeze.

Foreign War News.

From the papers of the 31st we see that the King of Prussia telegraphs to Berlin, Dec. 29, that the guns of Fort Avron were silenced by the bombardment; the railway station at Noisy was shelled, and the French artillery at Bondy dislodged, and that the garrison of Fort Avron has gone into Paris. The French say the German attacks were repulsed. The Prussian account of the affair at Montoire is, that the German force cut its way through the surrounding French, and captured 240 prisoners. The French account says the Prussians were driven out of the place with casualties and the loss of prisoners. The Prussians are represented as cruelly exacting in making requisitions, and they threaten to hold as hostages fifty prominent citizens of Orleans unless 600,000 francs are raised by the impoverished inhabitants. Both German and French troops suffer terribly from the cold, and a Bordeaux telegram says strong reinforcements have been sent forward to replace the men thus disabled. The Prussian reply to the British Government's demand regarding the sinking of British ships in the Seine, is that it will give indemnity bonds to the owners of the vessels, but will not compensate the seamen for the harsh treatment they received.

From the papers of the 2nd we see that a Bordeaux dispatch says the Germans lost 8,000 during the bombardment of Fort Mont Avron. From Paris it is reported that shells have been thrown into the north part of the city from Rainoy, a range of 7,000 yards. The losses sustained by Gen. Ducrot's army in the last sorties were so great as to render a reconstruction of the Army of Paris necessary. Ducrot and his brother officers are represented as fearful of the success of the final result of the struggle if this system of fighting is continued. The conduct of the people inside Paris is said to be still excellent, and their resignation, courage and heroic exertions remarkable. Out of forty-seven Sisters of Charity attending the small-pox hospital, eleven have died. The French in California have sent a valuable New-Year's gift to their unfortunate brethren in France—100,000 francs for the national defense. Gambetta has sent an enthusiastic reply to the Californians.

From the papers of the 3d Paris is represented to be depressed by the withdrawal of the defenders from Avron. The Mayors held a meeting to censure the Government for activity, but it was a failure. The Palace of Malmaison is said to have been fired by shells from Fort-Mont Valerien, and totally destroyed. Since the evacuation Mont Avron, other positions, north and east of Paris, have been abandoned, and the French guns in the fortifications generally are silent. Extremely cold weather continue in France, and terrible suffering in consequence. The French still accuse the invaders of inhuman atrocities. The evacuation of Gray by the Prussians in the East is confirmed by dispatches from Besancon. It occurred after a conflict in which the invadors lost heavily. Meziers in the North has been occupied by the Germans. Gambetta in the New Year's address, at the Bordeaux Prefecture, said the Government was committed to the defense of the country, but it was mortal; the Republic must not be confounded with the men who had been obliged to assume power; these would resign when the invasion was repelled and submit their action to the country.

From the papers of the 4th we learn that a reception was given by the Prussians in the Place of Versailles on the 1st inst., to the officers of the German Army. The King made a short address, ascribing to the heroism of the troops the great events which preceded the celebration of the day in such a place; the goal was still unattained; important tasks were to be accomplished before a lasting peace could be achieved, and a peace which would involve a continuation of the duties which brought them there, would be censurable. Advices from Paris to the 30th ult., represent that the people unite in urging Gen. Trochu to make a sortie with an enormus force, which can be spared for the service, the weather having become more moderate, and the artillery being so powerful and well manned, that the enemy can make slight impression on the fortifications. The French success which led to the evacuation of Gray, in the east, by the Germans is confirmed. The reported withdrawal of the German Army of the Loire to Gien, to the east ward of Orleans, thirty or orty miles, seems to be confirmed.

From the papers of the 5th we learn that Gen. Faidherbe has gained important advantages in the North after a severe engagement at Ervilliers, in which the losses on both sides were heavy. His movement, it is thought, will compel the Germans to evacuate Rouen—Two thousand French prisoners were taken at Meziers. Intense excitement is said to exist in the population, who demand that a grand sortie be made. Some of the journals accuse Trochu of feebleness. London telegrams say the people suffer from lack of fuel and food, but some mitigation is afforded by the stores distributed by the Government. Orders have been sent from Bordeaux to Generals in the field to hasten the movement on Paris. At the Versailles banquet on New Year's Day King William gave a toast, "The German Princes," to which the Grand Duke of Baden responded, rejoicing at the restoration of the old German Empire, and closed with a toast to "William the Victorious." Gen. Chauzy is still said to be successful on the Loire. The Austrian Government, it is said, will arrest and detain all French prisoners who escape into their territory. Berlin bankers have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment for subscribing to the recent French loan.

From the papers of the 6th a telegram from Lille reports that the battle fought by the Army of the North on the 3d was a great victory for the French, that the fight continued ten hours, and that the Prussians were forced from all their positions, the French occupying the villages held by the Germans in the morning. Two villages were totally destroyed. Railway communication between Lille and Cambria is restored. The fortress of Peronne, in the Department of Somme, although almost destroyed by the bombardment, still holds out.

From the papers of the 7th we learn that on the 4th inst. the Prussians surprised a French detachment near Rouen, taking 450 prisoners. Belfort continues to hold out. The German commander in the valley of the Saone reports that he evacuated Dijon in obedience to orders, and reached Vesoul Dec. 26, still controlling the passage of the Saone, he claims. A Versailles dispatch of Jan. 5. says the bombardment of the southern forts of Paris began at 9 A. M. that day. The French Government will accept mesages for Paris, to be forwarded by carrier pigeons, at the senders' risk, at ten cents a word.

From the papers of the 9th a dispatch from near Paris, on Friday, at noon, says that Forts Issy and Vanvres have been silenced, and according to a London telegram, the bombardment of the other forts promises to be equally effective. A Versailles dispatch says the forts were only temporarily silenced. The King of Prussia telegraphs that his losses so far, in the bombardment of Issy and Vanvres, are seventeen killed and wounded. Letters from Paris, received in London, to the 4th, indicate danger of riots. The German bombardment to the south of Paris opened on Tuesday on Forts Issy, Vanvres and Montrouge, the French intrenchments Villejuif and Point Joru, and the French gun-boats on the Siene; and the bombardment on the north-east front was continued energetically, in spite of a heavy fog. A London dispatch reports that already the casemates of Fort Rosny, on the north, have been destroyed. The German heavy guns at Meaudon, south-east of Paris, and all the other batteries in that direction, were on the 6th in position and ready for use, and probably before this have opened fire.

VALUABLE LAND, AND DOCTOR'S STAND FOR SALE.

To those wishing to purchase for the purpose of locating or for speculation, a rare chance is now offered.

The farm known as the Dr. Morton Farm, near Currituck C. H., on the line of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, forty miles from Norfolk, Va., and twenty from Elizabeth City, and containing three hundred acres, one hundred of which are cleared and under fence. This place having been a Doctor's Stand for twenty years, physicians would do well to make inquiries respecting it. The building is a large residence and all necessary out-houses are in good condition—indeed, similar ones could not be put upon the premises for the money asked for the farm. Being immediately on Currituck Sound and in close proximity to the best fowling and fishing grounds in North Carolina, it commands a beautiful water view, is healthy the year round, and suitable for the home of the sportsman, as well as of the farmer or physician.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements in this issue:

Valuable Land for sale.
Notice.
Important Announcement.

Local and Personal.

☞ Judge POOL is holding Court in Currituck this week.

☞ The Boats between this place and Norfolk are running again on their usual schedule.

☞ How to produce a "backward spring." Present a red hot poker to a man's nose! It never fails.

☞ The first of the year is moving time in this country. During the past week many families have changed their base.

☞ The cheapest thing to be had for the money—the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Subscription price only $2 if paid in advance.

☞ Our Devil says he has discovered a way of keeping eggs from spoiling. His method is to eat them while they are fresh. Bravo!

☞ Our Devil says that during the "cold snap" mittens came "mighty handy." But that those received from a lady never fit! We suppose the sly rogue speaks from experience.

☞ A Democratic cotemporary apologizes for the dullness of his paper because he finds two things hard to get—local items and money. He might truly have added brains to the list.

☞ Mr. MAGILL has commenced the work on his Ice House. He is about to put up a large building and is preparing to furnish the people with Ice the coming summer.

☞ A facetious correspondent wants to know the difference between the North and the South poles? We answer, in the same spirit the query is sent us. All the difference in the world.

☞ A number of our Northern friends here on a visit spent a few days last week over in Currituck enjoying the sport of Duck shooting. They report a good time.

☞ A cotemporary observes "the holders of whiskey are firm." We are compelled to report differently in this section. We recently saw several "holders of whiskey" on the streets, and they were all more or less shaky!

☞ During the past month we have had a number of letters from different parts of the North, making inquiries respecting this country, the prices of property, business prospects, etc. The interest in this section not only continues, but it is increasing.

☞ Our friend G. S. VAN SLYCK, of Poplar Branch, Currituck, N. C., will accept our thanks for those double brace of Wild Ducks sent us by the hands of Mr. THOMPSON. We appreciate such kind remembrances on the part of our friends.

☞ On Thursday last Mr. T. W. CARPOZO, Teacher and Politician, left this place for Vicksburg, Miss., to take charge of a school in that city. As a Teacher he was well qualified and was doing a good work, but as a politician he most effectually "played out."

☞ Read the story on our first page this week. Let it make an indelible impression on the mind of every young man never to use money not his own. It always, sooner or later, brings trouble. Disguise it as you may, the taking of money in this way is theft. Never do it.

☞ Capt. F. W. BOND, of Edenton, will please accept our thanks for his kind favor. Information of a practical kind we solicit from all sources. He informs us that he has on hand a quantity of elegant long staple prolific Cotton seed of his own raising from seed obtained from Mississippi. He says he realized 300 pounds lint of this cotton from two-fifths of an acre. The price of the seed is $3, a bushel. It cost him $5. We shall be glad to hear from him at any time.

☞ A recent correspondent—we won't mention names—in forwarding us the announcement of the death of a lady stated that she was the Post Mistress. We have since learned that she was only the wife of the Post Master. Our correspondent evidently thought as did the old lady in Berks county whose husband was elected Justice of the Peace. Says she "Daddy, you are elected Squire, now ain't I a Squire too?"

☞ The article of "J" in our last issue, referring to our Public Schools, has been generally read and we trust will awaken more thought upon the subject. All are interested—parent, pupil, and teacher—and by intelligent co-operation and action our schools may be improved and perfected. Let us have further articles.

☞ A gentleman from a neighboring town on remitting his subscription for another year takes occasion to say:

"Though differing from you in politics, I confess that your paper is doing incalculable good for this country and I feel it to be to my interest to aid in sustaining it. This I think all our people should do—should patronize you in subscriptions, advertising and with all their job printing."

Our friend will accept our thanks for his kind words and especially so because he practices what he preaches. A live newspaper is a benefit to any community, and we know the influence exerted by the NORTH CAROLINIAN has been felt in this. It is aiding every man in this District—benefiting him pecuniarly. Surely then every man ought to feel it his duty to patronize it. As this is done; the better it is patronized and sustained the greater will its power for usefulness be increased. Our correspondent having introduced the subject we embrace the occasion to throw out these hints.

☞ Our "Carrier" requests us to return his grateful acknowledgements to his friends for their liberality when he waited on them with his Annual Address.

☞ If you want to buy Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Hardware, Cutlery, Patent Medicines or Confectionaries, as good as the best and as cheap as the cheapest, go to KEATON & HORTON'S on Leather Hill.

☞ The Post Master at Wardsville will accept our thanks for his remittance and his kindly efforts to increase our subscription list. Post Masters can aid us materially when disposed to do so.

☞ Valuable land in Currituck County is offered for sale. See advertisement in this issue. No one can visit the neighborhood without being attracted by the appearance of the "Morton Place."

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last we notice Dr. A. E. SHAW, from Canton, Pa.; S. E. AINSWORTH, from Wellsboro, Pa.; J. M. WELD and M. T. BRODERICK, from Havana, N. Y.

☞ Our friend J. R. DARDEN, member of the Legislature from Perquimans, informs us that his name is put down in the North Carolina Almanac and in many papers as "T. E. DARDEN." He desires the error to be corrected.

☞ We had the pleasure of a visit from B. J. SHANONHOUSE Esq., of Charlotte, N. C. one day last week. He gave us an interesting account of the gold mining operations in that section of the State.

☞ Capt. N. T. ACKERLY, just arrived from the West Indies, informs us that on the 31st of December he spoke with the Brig. "B. F. Nash," of New York, from Ponce, Porto Rico. This was at Longitude 74° and Latitude 33° 45'. New York papers will copy.

☞ We are pained to be called upon to announce the death, on Friday evening last, of JOSEPH UNDERWOOD, son of Dr. WILLIAM UNDERWOOD and one of the members of the firm of the Land & Lumber Company at this place. He had suffered more or less from his childhood with Scrofula, sometimes the disease assuming a milder form, at other times it affected him severely. He sailed here in the fall of 1869, and during the first eight or nine months of his residence here his health appeared to improve, inducing his friends to hope for his entire restoration; but being of an active business turn and largely interested in the great enterprises inaugurated here by the Company of which he was a useful member, he denied himself the rest and recreation his condition required, and as the result the disease assumed a more aggravated form. He began to fail rapidly, and, as already stated, quietly breathed his last at four o'clock P. M., on Friday last, aged 29 years, 9 months, and 14 days. He will be very much missed by this entire community. By his unobtrusive manners, his kind and courteous deportment, his generous disposition and unexceptionable character he won the regard and esteem of all. Both as a man of business and as a citizen he stood very high among our people. His remains, followed by an unusually large concourse of people, were interred in the Cemetery on Sabbath afternoon last. He leaves a wife and two children—interesting little boys—who have our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement. May they feel in this dispensation that the Great Father "doeth all things for the best"—that the loved one has been beckoned over to "the other land" where there is neither suffering nor pain, and hence that their loss is his eternal gain.

☞ During the fore part of this week we made our first visit to Currituck. On passing through the county we saw some beautiful country and good land. About the region of Shaw's Corner and along Indian Ridge the country equals any we ever visited. On reaching the Court House, we found it located on the West bank of Currituck Sound, a very pretty sheet of water, but unfortunately too shallow for large vessels. The building was erected in 1842. Though of brick it is very much lacking in the comforts and conveniences required for the purpose used. We put up at the only public House in the village, kept by EDMUND SIMMONS, Esq., who spared no pains to make us comfortable. For his courtesy and attention he will accept our thanks. Being Court week we met an unusual number of the members of the Bar in attendance. In addition to Messrs. GRANDY, BALL and MARTIN, of Elizabeth City, Col. LUKE and Mr. FERERY, of Camden, we met Messrs. B. M. BAXTER, W. B. SHAW and P. H. MORGAN of the Currituck Bar. We also had the pleasure of meeting Hon. ASA BIGGS, formerly United States District Judge of this State, Hon. W. N. H. SMITH, formerly a Representative in Congress from this State, Hon. T. J. JARVIS Speaker of the House of Representatives, Col. W. A. MOORE of Edenton and Hon. JOHN W. ALBERTSON, Solicitor of this District. We noticed a number of cases on the criminal Docket—one capital case, the State against JOSHUA HARRISON charged with killing his father. On the civil Docket the most prominent case was that of the State against the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company. We had the pleasure of forming many new acquaintances all of which made our visit quite agreeable. We must say the impression made on us by the people of Currituck was a favorable one.

A Southern Triumph.

No medicine ever offered to the people has won for itself such a reputation in so short a time, as DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT. Wherever it has been introduced, it has superseded all other Cough remedies. It not only cures the Cough, but so thoroughly purifies the Lungs, that no fears of its return need be apprehended.

Have you ever tried NATURE'S HAIR RESTORATIVE? You will be delighted with it. Clean, safe, and efficient. It is driving all the poisonous compounds out of the market. It is as clear as crystal. See advertisement.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death itself and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used on an emergency, when the sentinal principle lodged in the system shall develope itself, and we feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease. Such a remedial agent exists in the Pain Killer, whose fame has made the circuit of the globe. Amid the eternal ices of the frozen regions or beneath the intolerable and burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. Under all latitudes, from the one extreme to the other, suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills by its use. The wide and broad area over which this medicine has spread, attests its value and potency. From a small beginning, the Pain Killer has pushed gradually along, making its own highway, solely by its virtues.
Such unexampled success can only be purchased by merit, others into the field, who have attempted, under similarity of name, to usurp the confidence of the people and turn it to their own selfishness and dishonesty, but their efforts have proved fruitless, while the Pain Killer is still growing in public favor.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

The Land and Lumber Co.

Water Street,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In again presenting our list of lands and other property for sale, we repeat that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A large new brick building in the town of Elizabeth City, on Water street, opposite the market house, and one of the most eligible locations in the town for the mercantile business. The building is 70 feet long by 35 feet wide. The lower story is neatly fitted up with shelves, drawers, counters, &c., for a store, and the second story is finely finished with parlor, sitting room, and four good size bed rooms—all in perfect order. There is nearly a half acre of land that goes with it, and in the rear of the store, is a good two story wood building, cook house, pantries, dairy, &c., and such modern fixtures as will render a family able to live in good style. It is one of the best stands in the town for a merchant, wholesale, or retail. The party owning it it is largely in debt, and compelled to sell, hence it is offered at the low price of $3,200, one half cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Possession given immediately.

For a merchant who wishes to make money at the mercantile business rapidly, who desires to settle in the most rapidly rising town in North Carolina; who wishes to enjoy good society, live in a strong moral community where Northern men and their families are received both in the social and business circles, on equal footing with the most favored of our own people; and where the climate is the most genial and healthful to be found anywhere, this is the place to come and buy. And then too it is at a point suited for all sorts of business, being in direct water communication with twenty of the richest counties in the State, and having a harbor with water 40 feet deep, and in easy and cheap access with all the civilized world. A point possessing all these advantages, and many more, too numerous to mention, and for property so cheap as this, is an inducement offered, unparalleled in any part of the United States.

A large brick building nearly new, and well built, in the town of Elizabeth City, three stories high, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with a wing 40 feet square, situated in the business part of the town, and within forty yards of the wharf where steamers and sailing vessels are arriving and departing nearly every hour in the day. The daily line of steamers from Norfolk to H. S. City, have their depot and landing at this wharf. There is vacant land enough adjoining for sale at low prices to make over two acres. There is nearly a half acre that will go with this property.

This is the finest building in the town for a large hotel and is the most eligibly located for that purpose. And, since four hotels were burned here during the war, and the business is now imperfectly carried on, this is a splendid opening for a person to make a large amount of money at hotel keeping. This building commands a view of the river for miles, and all the shipping in the port can be seen from it. It is offered at forced sale at $7,500, one half cash, balance in one and two years, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

One of the most desirable, and at the present, best paying farms in Eastern North Carolina, is offered for sale; situated in Perquimans co., N. C., 12 miles from E. City, and two from Perquimans river, embracing a large portion of the celebrated Turkey Ridge body, and being elegantly adapted to the growth and cultivation of corn, wheat, oats, peas, cotton and clover, and the various grasses. Nearly the entire farm is under a system of successful culture, with good fences, well drained, having on it a good dwelling with 4 rooms, several good tenant houses and the necessary out-houses, together with a barn, 50 by 70 feet, with machine shelter attached, 50 by 70 feet, stables 28 by 50, and blacksmith shop. 600 acres is under cultivation and 100 acres in grass pasture. To a party seeking a permanent investment, or to those wishing to establish a small colony, this plantation holds out peculiar inducements. If desired, the stock of horses, mules, oxen, hogs, corn and fodder now on the farm, together with all the necessary farming implements will be sold with it at reasonable rates. AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Stock Raising Compared With Grain Raising.

In the early agricultural history of this country, and before the Mississippi valley became the great producing section. there was more of a system of mixed husbandry prevailing than at present. Each farmer raised a little surplus wheat, a few surplus hogs, and annually fattened for market a few head of cattle.

Under this system there was no division of our producing area into sections, each making a speciality of producing grain or stock, as the case might be. But with the inaugnration of the system of husbandry now practiced in the West, and with the settlement of the North Western States and territories, together with the introduction of agricultural machinery, the farmers on the prairies of Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin began to devote their attention exclusively to wheat raising. Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, to a considerable extent began to make a similar specialty of feeding stock for the great Eastern markets. The demand for cattle for city slaughtering, and for packed and cured meats for shipment, grew with great rapidity, and much faster than the demand for breadstuffs.

This resulted from the fact that as Europe began to look more and more to this country for a large proportion of its supplies of meats and breadstuffs, a competitor in the production of cereals rapidly developed in the rich intervals of the Danube and the vast steppes of Southern Russia, while no section of Europe entered the lists in competition with us in the rearing and fattening of hogs and cattle. We therefore find that while the price of wheat in the bins of our farmers depends entirely upon the condition of the crop in the producing sections of Europe the staple that we have named has not been subject to any such influences.

The United States is to-day the practical meat market of the world. The stock-raising branch of American agricultural industry is the best paying and by far most reliable of all branches, except, perhaps, the dairy business, and this is confined to the Eastern and Middle States. We have not time or space in the present article to discuss fully the reasons why the cattle and hog-raising branch of farming is not only the most profitable now, but also the causes that conspire to give this fact permanency and reliability. In another we shall speak at some length of the development of the stock raising industry in the great ranges of the South-west, and its probable influence upon the general market.—Kansas Drover.

HORSE LINIMENT.—One-fourth ounce of white vitriol, one ounce sugar of lead one ounce saltpetre, dissolve in one-half pint of wine or brandy.

HORSE REMEDIES.—A writer in the Ohio Farmer furnishes the following. The receipes, he says are valuable, and have been sold many times at $10 each,

According to Vœlcker, an old clover field will lose its virtue. It wants to be cultivated and put to grain at once, so that the nitrates do not form and pass (wash) away.

The man who will invent cheap irrigation will be one of the main benefactors of the race. The man who will convince farmers of the full benefit of drainage will be another.

The Internal Revenue Office has advices of the recovery of $17,000 from Ex-Collector Tullis, of Texas, whose arrest and imprisonment were mentioned a few days since. The whole amount of the defalcation was $30,000.

CURE FOR BOTS.—Take eight ounces each of bees-wax, mutton tallow and sugar, melt in one quart of new milk, put into a bottle and drench the horse while the solution is warm enough not to allow the wax to cool. Two hours later give physic.

NERVE OR BONE LINIMENT.—One pint of alcohol, two ounces each of organum and oil of spike; one ounce each of sweet oil, spirits of hartshorn and camphor gum; one-fourth ounce each of oil hemlock and sassafras; one ounce each of British oil and harlem oil.

FOUNDER.—A prescription for a founder in milch cows: Dissolve one-quarter of a pound of Glauber salts in a half-pint of warm water, and add a pint of raw linseed oil, and give the whole at one dose. In three days you will not know the animal was foundered.

Between March 29. 1867, and Aug. 31, 1870, almost $8,000,000 were passed through the Freedmen's Bureau to settle the claims of colored soldiers and sailors for pay, bounty and prize money. The claimants were protected from swindling charges for services in prosecuting their claims by the attorneys having allowed to them only their legal fee.

Where vegetable manure has been long in the soil, held by the clay and lime, there is your best soil for wheat. Now manure will make straw, but it will not stiffen or form a plump berry—the exceptions are when the year is unusually favorable. Many a good wheat crop, heavy in straw, has been ruined by too much manure, and is so yearly.

CHECK REIN.—A good horseman will always drive with a tight rein—just so tight that the animal will feel a gentle pressure on the bit, and if the check rein is not too tight. this is the best safeguard against stumbling. The carriage horse is often cruelly punishee by the unmerciful tightness of the check rein; his mouth becomes callous by the constant hard pressure of the bit, and loses its sensitiveness to the gentle pressure of the driving rein.

CHICKEN CHOLERA.—I lost about fifteen or sixteen of my hens last spring by the cholera, and in all cases, when they were about coming down with it, I noticed their combs would become pale and they looked languid, and had a great propensity to drink water profusely. I thought I would try an experiment, as I knew the fowl would die anyhow, so I caugnt two of them and held their mouths open, and poured a teaspoonful of paregoric down each one's throat, and threw them into the garden, where they could get all they could eat, but no drink, and the thirk day repeated it. Now they are all well and gone to laying.

CATTLE INSURANCE.— The Mark Lane (Eng.) Express records the fact that a dividend of six shillings on the pound is now payable to the creditors of the great English Agricultural Cattle Insurance Company, which indicates the utter failure of attempts of this kind on the other side of the ocean. The same or similar results have been the experience of every company that has attempted to insure cattle in this country. It can never be done until there is a veterinarian in each neighborhood competent to decide whether or not any given animal for which insurance is asked is well or otherwise, and when it dies—what is of more consequence—whether or not its death came from disease or some other couse against which there was no insurance,

MEDICAL.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1870.

Allow me to call your attention to my

PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.

The component parts are, BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of the ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist,
of 16 Years' Experience.

(FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS IN THE WORLD.)

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Manufacturing Chemists,
Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

Is the great specific for Universal Lassitude, Prostration, &c.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chloro-is, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superceding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.
